

Parc Eglos Writers

Treasuring
Words

I am a writer - I treasure words. I am always looking for new words to grab and use in my own writing.

Collecting

I am a writer - I collect. Through my reading and in work in class, I collect ideas, characters, words, patterns and types of language to help me make my own writing shine.

Rehearsing

I am a writer - I rehearse. I know that saying my ideas aloud before I write them down, helps me organise my thoughts onto the page.

Playing

I am a writer - I have fun playing with words and sentences. I know that playing can help me to learn/discover new ways to express myself.

Constructing

I am a writer - I construct/build. I understand how words can link together to make sentences and sentences can be linked to build longer pieces of writing. Just like building with Lego.

Purple
Polishing

I am a writer - I purple polish. I really work hard on my writing and know that making changes can really help my writing to shine.

Becoming Fluent

I am a writer - I practise the skills I need to help me write, just like a sportsperson or a musician practise increasingly complex skills until they become fluent.
